BADGER AND SUCKER

NEVADA STATE JOURNAL The Way Illinois and Wisconsin Came to Get Their Nicknames.

"If there had been no badgers in Wisconsin," said a native of that state, "Wisconsin would not be known as the Badger State, and yet it did not receive the name because badgers were there. There were very few white people in Wisconsin territory in its early days, the population being confined to the returned to their prairies and groves. The miners who were permanent dwellfor such dwellings was not abundant. those burrows would perhaps be called dugouts, but as they closely resembled the subterranean homes of the badgers they were promptly called badger holes, and the miners who occupied them were called badgers.

"Any one who cares to tramp through that part of Wisconsin today will come upon deep excavations in the rocksregular quarry holes bearing every evidence of having been made long ago. And so they were. Some of them were excavated 60 years ago and more. They were the work of the lead miners who went up from Illinois in the spring to the mining region. They, being there only for a short season, did not mine by dig ging shafts, as the permanent miners did, nor did they live in barrows. They blasted the surface rock, making large pits by their work, seeking what was called the float lead and ore that was easily obtained near the top. They occupied the pits they made, as the other miners did their billside burrows.

'Owing to the similarity of the migrations of these quarry miners to those of that familiar fish which goes up stream in the spring and down again in the fall, they soon became known as suckers, and their pits in the rocks were called sucker holes. In the course of years the names badger and sucker came to be applied to the entire people of Wisconsin and Illinois. Many of the original badgers and suckers became the leading citizens of their respective lo-calities and helped make the country's history. When Wisconsin was admitted to the Union, the badger was placed on ber coat of arms in recognition of this fact, and it was from the miners who

Hand in Hand.

Concentrated thought, continued in, robs the stomach of necessary blood, and this is also true of hard physical labor.

When a five horse-power engine is made to do ten horse-power work something is going to break. Very often the hardworked man coming from the field or the office will "bolt" his food in a few minutes which will take hours to digest. Then too, many foods are about as useful in the stomach as a key of nails would be in a fire under a boiler. The ill-used stomach refuses, to do its work without the proper stimulus which it gets from the blood and nerves. The nerves are weak and "ready to break," because they do not get the nourishment they require from the blood, finally the ill-used brain is morbidly wide awake when the overworked man attempts to find rest in bed.

The application of common sense in the treatment of the stomach and the whole system brings to the busy man the full enjoyment of life and healthy digestion when he takes Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to relieve a billons stomach or after a too hearty meal, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood. The "Pellets" are tny sugar-coated pills made of highly concentrated vegetable ingredients which relieve the stomach of all offending matters easily and thoroughly. They need only be taken for a short time to cure the biliousness, constipation and slothfulness, or torpor, of the liver; then the "Medical Discovery" should be taken in teaspoonful doses to increase the blood and curich it. It has a peculiar effect upon the lining membranes of the stomach and bowels, toning up and strengthening them for all time. The whole system feets the effect of the pure blood coursing through the body and the nerves are vitalized and strengthened, not deadened, or put to sleep, as the so-called celery compounds and nerve mixtures do—but refreshed and fed on the food they need for health. If you suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, nervousness, and any of the ills which come from impure blood and disordered stomach, y and disordered stomach, you can cure yourself with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which can be obtained at any drug store in the country.

Unless the opinions of some of the are changed by the new arguments pend upon the vote of Justice Jackson. The court stood six to two in declarm: that part of the Act relating to taxing incomes from real estate and State and municipal bonds unconstitutional, and unless two of them change their votes that part of the Act will be declared unconstitutional, whichever way dustice Jackson may decide. The constr tutionality of the rest of the Act with probably depend upon Justice James son's opinion, as it is not likely faul the others will change their views

The Supreme Court of the United States, however, has heretofore changed Greenback Act unconstitutional and serves a monument. Chief Justice Chase delivered the opinion of the court. Then the court was reorganized by merearing the number of justnes to mae. Two of the old justices who voted with the Chief Justice were retired, and four new ones appointed. A rehearing was granted and the Act authorizing the issuance of greenbacks and making them a legal tender was sustained.

LOPED FOR HIS INTEGRITY The Famous Journalist Acquired Knowl edge Early Through Great Tribulation. Scaggs, "a Child of the Devil," Was Kind to the Boy Who Wanted to Learn. The oft told and praiseworthy story about the sterling quality of George Washington's truthfulness when a lad and the straightforward confession, "I cannot tell a lie, father, I did it with my little hatchet," that have made the Father of His Country the idol of boyish hearts stands not alone as an example of American youthful integrity

Another lad, when punishment as keenly dreaded confronted him and a father more trate than George's parent is ever pictured to have been, stood boldly forth when questioned and acknowledged bimself the culprit This other boy was Horace Greeley, and the story is an interesting one

It happened in the town of Erie, Pa., where Horace spent a great part of his boyhood The lad was unusually precoclous and at the age of 10 years was considered the predigy of the town He was a great reader and eagerly devoured anything in the way of useful literature that came in his way. His father was a poor man, and Horace had not many chances for mercal culture, but so keen was the boy's love of study and ambi-tion for knowledge that he used to visit by stealth an old neighbor who possessed n handsome and finely stocked library This old fellow was, to the mind of Horaco's father, the essence of all that was irreligious – His name was Scaggs -Nathaniel Scaggs-and despite his quiet method of living and his acknowledged honesty of character he remained to Mr Greeley's mind, a vile and hard-ened sinner Old Scaggs rarely attended any place of worship and on pleasant Sunday afternoons could always be seen sitting in his front garden boldly smok ing his corncob pipe. These were the

But Scaggs had taken a fancy to the bright fixed Horace and invited the boy to his home. After the first visit and a gluupso of that wonderful storehouse of books Horaco could not stay away He knew his tather hated old Scaggs and called him a "lost soul," and he real uzed if his visits to their neighbor reach ed his e ire that his father would in stantly prohibit his calls

At the same time old Scaggs' kind 1988 had won his heart. His wisdom had gained his admiration, and he felt the injustice of his father's dislike to ward his old friend Besides the old man was teaching him Latin and opening daily to the boyish mind fields of thought and speculation and pointing out with care and patience philosophic truths so eagerly listened to by young

Once in the middle of a sentence of Cierro, while the two were engaged in their daily reading the boy stopped short and exclaimed "Mr Soaggs, my father doesn't like you. He says you are a child of the devil "

The old man was silent for a moment and then burst out laughing "Why does your father dislike me Horace" he asked

"Well, you don't go to meeting, you know, sir, and then you smoke your pipe on Sunday "

"Yes, I do, my boy, but I did not know that was a great sin I am sorry voor father dislikes me, my son. Let us go on with Cicero " And the reading continued That night Horace Greeley made up his mind to speak to his father and make a plea for old Seaggs' friend ship Accordingly, just before bedtime Hor toe accosted his father

"Father, is not God forbearing?" he asked "Yes, my son Why do you ask?" "Does he not tergive much to those who are kind and intelligent⁹¹ "Why do you ask?" still inquired the father

"Well, I timuk Mr Scaggs is both kind and intellectual, and I somehow hoped the good Lord would overlook his smoking and not going to meeting." The old man at once grew stern, questioned young Horace regarding his solicitude for their neighbor, and eventu ally the secret of the boy's visits and studies was brought to light Mr Greeley forbade his son to go near old Scagga agam, denounced Latin books as im pious reading and threatened the lad with the strap.

Hornce Greeley, after he got to be the editor of a big New York newspaper, used to tell the story with much feeling. "After being forbidden old Scaggs companionship," he said, "I went and told the old man about it He seemed grieved, but told me to obey my father The next day I was with my teacher at the usual hour, and after promising him I would tell my father of my visit out lesson went on as usual Thon I went home and told my dad, and he walloped mol For a whole week I continned my visits to my old preceptor, and each night I received a thrashing-more severe each time! At the end of the week I had to eat my weals standing up. Then my father locked me up for a few days, and we left Erie for Vermont in less than a fortnight. Yes I slipped out and bade old Songgs goodby The old man was tearful and gave me the worn volume of Cicero as a parting gift Of course I got a licking for that visit also, but I had seen my old friend and had my beloved Latin reader buttoned tightly beneath my waistcoat I honored my father always, "Mr Greeley concluded, "but I never forgave him those lashings He was a blue Presbyterian and could not telerate Sabbath breaking. He was a mighty good man, but when I think of those whippings' —and then Mr. Greeley used to squirm, much to the delight of his listeners.—
